Profile

I'm an energetic, diligent and hardworking young person looking for work. I learn new skills quickly and take direction well. I have experience in and excel at skills such as house painting, customer service, employee communication, and especially computer work. I strive to further my career in either independent video game development or other computer-related fields in my free time and/or through my job if possible, but will stick around for a good job for as long as I am able to provide good service.
